

- ✓ Lame steer and no tilt table?
- ✓ Urolithiasis updates?
- ✓ Pot-bellied pig pruritis possibilities?

Whatever the potholes in your route,

can smooth out your day.

Think VIN is just for small animal veterinarians? Think again! With a VIN membership, you can fit over 100,000 helpful colleagues in your truck. Get all the resources, support, and community you need to enhance your large animal practice in one place — VIN!

|| As a solo practitioner I appreciate the ability to consult with others about difficult cases. The ability to easily post pictures and videos is great, as is the ability to search not only previous posts but much of the available current literature...especially when working in the field. ||

Jean Feldman, DVM | VIN Associate Editor

GET EVERYTHING
YOU NEED FOR YOUR
LARGE ANIMAL PRACTICE IN ONE PLACE!

VIN VETERINARY DRUG HANDBOOK (VVDH)

Available on VIN and as a mobile app, the VVDH has all the formulary amenities you'd expect: accurate, referenced dosing, space for your notes, and loads more! From dosage calculators to Clinical Pearls from experts in the field to Client Information Sheets, it's like having a pharmacist in your pocket.

Whether you're researching on your laptop at the clinic or trying to figure out an appropriate dose in the glow of your truck headlights, VIN is the colleague you need when times get rough. Large animal work can be lonely, and the VVDH is there to support you from the clinic to the field.

SPECIALTY CENTERS

VIN has decades of information and thousands of resources. Many of the ones you'll need most in practice are gathered together for your easy browsing in the Ruminant and Swine Specialty Centers. From anesthesia to procedures to reproduction, you'll find what you need.

Dreading the call out to the lame steer where there's no tilt table to be had? Watch a video series covering everything you need to know about cattle handling. Puzzled by a porcine physiological peculiarity? Read the latest journal articles on swine health. The Specialty Centers will save your bacon!

MESSAGE BOARDS

The VIN Message Boards are home to a community of 230+ VIN Consultants and over 115,000 colleagues. In the Ruminants and Swine Message Board folders, you can get case support from boarded surgeons and internists, topic specialists, and your colleagues in general practice.

Between nights in the barn and days on the road, whether you're trying to get a handle on an outbreak or build your pet pig practice, it's good to feel like someone has your back. On VIN, you can easily get help from specialists and colleagues in fields ranging from alternative medicine to zoonotic diseases.

PROCEDURE VIDEOS

The Exero video collection documents procedures and surgeries, often shot from a first-person perspective. The Mentor procedure video collection primarily focuses on emergency procedures and includes step-by-step instructions, as well as a materials list for each procedure.

Whether you're contemplating a new procedure, teaching a student or new associate, or just needing a memory refresher, having the visuals in video form can help jog your memory and help you prepare your team. Just think, a handy checklist means no more racing back to the truck for the "one thing" you forgot!

MERCK/MSD MANUAL

The Merck Veterinary Manual (known as the MSD Veterinary Manual outside the U.S. and Canada) has been a staple resource for veterinary students and practitioners since 1955. It's now a part of the VIN ocean of content, contributing essential large animal medicine information.

The Manual is included in VIN Search results, but you can also access it directly to browse by specialties and body systems. Whether you want a rinderpest refresher or erysipelas anxiety info, it's handy to be able to quickly get the disease 411 you need — in the same place where you get your drug and anatomy info.

CALCULATORS

Veterinary Feed Directives are an important part of record keeping, but they also fall into the category of "one more thing to do." The VFD calculator can check that right off your list by doing the calculations for you. Drug doses, gestation, and a host of additional calculators will become your essential tools, too.

When you're busy, anything that can shorten your call time and paperwork while also easing your mind with accurate calculations is a huge help. As with any calculator, please make sure the calculations make sense based on your clinical knowledge.